

4841 Huon Highway Geeveston TAS

8 2 8

Originally built by the Geeves Family in the 1800s, the grand historical residence of Hillcrest is as old as the township itself. Being a residence of prominence in Geeveston for many years, Hillcrest has served many purposes. From humble beginnings as four-room cottage for the timber mill manager, the present day residence was built in the late 1800s as a guest house. Hillcrest has since been used to host local community meetings, such as the inaugural Geeveston CWA, and the staging location for many rescue missions for walkers lost on Hartz Mountain. Since the mid 1900s and continuing on today, Hillcrest is being used as a private residence.

After years of neglect, Hillcrest has undergone a complete professional restoration.

Comprised of 17 separate completely renovated rooms over two levels and with double wrap around verandahs,
